PRIVATE CELLAR

Women in Wine

Private Cellar is lucky enough to have a female Master of Wine, two aspiring female MWs and a 50% female workforce, so we set up our Women in Wine group in April 2020 with the aim of empowering women who share our passion and to create a space where we can appreciate and learn about wine, without prejudice, and where no question is a stupid one. Everyone is welcome, from novices looking to learn new things to well-seasoned wine pros like us.

How it works

Membership is £100 a month and every two months we deliver a case of 12 bottles of wine. We meet once a month on Zoom to taste and talk all things vinous and in person a few times a year. PDFs of the presentations are circulated post Zoom so that you can revisit the information at your leisure. We also give you 10% off any of the wines you go on to buy.

The 12 bottle case contains 2 bottles of each wine which is perfect for splitting with a friend. Alternatively, you can opt for a bi-monthly delivery of a case of 6 bottles – one of each wine rather than two of each, and keep £50 per month on account, for special cases (when we cover more expensive regions such as Champagne or California) or as a slush fund for you to spend on wines you particularly enjoy across the year or perhaps the Private Cellar Fine Wine List, as you wish.

How to join

Comments on our recent Women in Wine lunch

"I'd like to say how much I enjoyed the wine lunch. The food and the wine were delicious and I always enjoy the women I meet at these events. They are all so interesting."

"What an incredible treat yesterday was. Thank you so, so much for organising it. Amazing wines, I loved all of them and felt very honoured to be in such a prestigious place. Long live women in wine!"

"It was a great treat to come for lunch with such a convivial crew. It seemed unreal to drink absolutely delicious wines on a Tuesday lunchtime! The food was completely scrummy."
