

Monthélie Blanc Les Sous Roches, Domaine Jean Vaudoisey 2023

White | France | Burgundy | 13% | Full-bodied white

CODE: JV120233

8.5 ares on a steep hill with very white, stony, chalky soils; previously unplanted because each vine has to be dug in by hand. Pale gold with a tightly fruited nose of white stone fruit, mineral, lightly floral, chalky and fresh, leading to a deliciously poised palate of racy white stone fruits, very mineral, perfumed, white flowers, stony rather than sunny and with a long, ripe finish. Drink 2025 - 2028+

Tasting Notes

The young proprietors of this old family Domaine, Romain and Baptiste Poirrotte, took over the reins in 2015 when they were in their early 20s. They have since instituted many changes, including planting some land in Monthélie and Volnay with Chardonnay as it suits the soils better, and working out which vineyards need more work on them. With only one premier cru in Volnay, they have begun to separate out their higher performing lieux dits to mature and bottle separately

75cl Bottle

£30.13

Case (12 bottles)

£361.57